

Chair Scan

*adapted from Mary Deane Sorcinelli,
University of Massachusetts Amherst

A Chair Scan is a short meeting held between the Academic Chair/Director and a faculty member each year. Ideally the meeting is held at a different time than annual review process, with the intent of discussing how best to support the faculty member's ongoing development.

Possible teaching-related questions to discuss:

- What do you do best as a teacher?
- What is your most perplexing question, or biggest challenge about teaching?
- How do you get a true sense of student learning in your classes?
- What barriers exist to teaching better?
- What is one thing you can do this year to enhance your teaching?
- How can I support your efforts?